THE PANAMERA EDITION &
PANAMERA EXECUTIVE EDITION
THRILLING CONTRADICTIONS

Dear Porsche Enthusiast,

As we approach the end of the year, we have more exciting news to share with you. Firstly, we are thrilled to showcase our revolutionary new sports cars at Auto Guangzhou from 20 to 29 November. The new Porsche 911, which sets new benchmarks in performance, driving pleasure and efficiency, is celebrating its Asia Premiere at the event. With new design features from the inside out, the new 911 proves once again why it remains the world's number one sports car. Also taking centre stage is the much-anticipated Panamera Edition, celebrating its China Premiere with enhanced design features for greater comfort, more dynamic performance and boasting an even more comprehensive standard equipment package.

The 2015 Porsche Carrera Cup Asia season came to an exciting finale at the Shanghai International Circuit from 30 October to 1 November. Held in collaboration with the World Endurance Championship for the first time, the battle saw Chris van der Drift and Yuey Tan clinch the championship titles for Overall and Class B categories respectively after two grueling rounds. Congratulations to them both!

The Porsche Golf Cup China Final 2015 will again be held at the Luhuitou Golf Course in Sanya from 27 to 29 November. The tournament has seen over 1,200 participants compete in 14 dealer qualifying rounds throughout China. The five champions from the China Final will then go on to represent China at the Porsche Golf Cup World Final which will be held in Spain.

As we enter the winter season, I wish you safe and pleasant driving in your Porsche.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Franz Jung

President and Chief Executive Officer of Porsche China

FUELLED FOR EXCITEMENT AUTO GUANGZHOU 2015

From 20 to 29 November, Porsche once again displays its latest line up of sports cars at one of the country's most anticipated annual automobile events: Auto Guangzhou 2015. Ready to enthral auto fans and Porsche enthusiasts, the iconic Porsche sports car, the 911, is the star of the show with new design features inside and out. With a newly designed engine with two turbo chargers for optimal performance, a reengineered PASM chassis for optimum comfort and handling and an even sleeker exterior, the new 911 is exceedingly well equipped for pure driving pleasure and will prove to its fans once again why it remains one of the world's favourite sports car.

Adding to the excitement at the Porsche stand is the China Premiere of the new Panamera Edition. With enhanced design features on the exterior for further elegance and on the inside for greater comfort, the new Panamera Edition clearly demonstrates itself as the elite sports car in the sedan category. In addition to these stunning highlight cars, visitors can also catch a glimpse of the 919 Hybrid fresh off its victory at the 2015 24 Hours of Le Mans. Achieving a stunning two-one finish, the 919 Hybrid's triumph marks Porsche's 17th overall Le Mans victory.

THE NEW 911 EVER AHEAD

For over five decades the Porsche 911 has never ceased to push the boundaries of design and engineering while always staying true to its Porsche DNA. Just when it appears perfection has been reached, a new generation is born. Delivering even greater power, performance and driving pleasure, the new 911 proves once again why it still remains one of the world's favourite sports car.

PCM with 7-inch touch screen

New steering wheel design based on the 918 Spyder

New headlights with 4-point LED daytime running lights

Standard satellite navigation with real-time traffic information

The new 911 packs added power thanks to two turbochargers in both the 911 Carrera and 911 Carrera S, with the engine delivering 370 hp (272 kW) and 420 hp (309 kW) respectively, each with a power increase of 20 hp (15 kW). Exceeding the top speeds of conventional turbo engines, the new 911 has lapped the Nürburgring in just 7 minutes 30 seconds—ten seconds faster than its predecessor. Not only characterised by added power, the engine also delivers increased torque for even greater driving thrills, effortless propulsion and truly emotional pleasure behind the wheel.

The improved handling of the 911 comes in part from a new steering wheel design based on that of the 918 Spyder for greater driving precision, and the new optional rear-axle steering for better agility and stability for the 911 Carrera S. Porsche has reengineered the Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM) chassis, lowering the height of the vehicle for enhanced sports car driving dynamics. New 19-inch standard alloy wheels with five slim twin pokes help reduce rolling resistance, delivering a deeper connection between car and driver.

The design features of the new 911 have been refined and enhanced inside and out, helping it to stand out from its peers whilst staying true to its DNA. The 911's exterior now features new front and rear headlights with four-point LED daytime running lights, three-dimension tail lights and 4-point brake lights. Inside, the new 911 boasts a new generation of Porsche's multimedia setup. The Porsche Communication Management System (PCM) with a seven-inch touchscreen interface supports Apple CarPlay, alongside satellite navigation with real-time traffic information coming as standard.

With enhanced performance, power and design features, the new 911 delivers ultimate driving pleasure. As it takes to the roads, the long-running favourite of the Porsche family will stay ever ahead of its competition.

THE PANAMERA EDITION & PANAMERA EXECUTIVE EDITION THRILLING CONTRADICTIONS

The pursuit of the perfect sports car never ceases at Porsche. And while challenging, it sets the stage for breakthroughs like the Panamera Edition and Panamera Executive Edition. Both vehicles advance the concept of a high-performance four-door sports car that never compromises on comfort, resulting in the new expressions of the thrilling contradictions that make the Panamera so distinct.

The Panamera Edition expands on its sports car DNA by building on its already extensive standard package, making every aspect even more comprehensive. Sporting a combination of side window trims in high-gloss black paint and an exterior in metallic paint, the Panamera Edition exudes elegance and is perfectly complemented by 19-inch Panamera Turbo II wheels with coloured Porsche Crests. At its heart, a powerful 3.0-litre 320 hp V6 cylinder bi-turbo engine works in tandem with Porsche's Active Suspension Management (PASM) to make every ride as comfortable as possible. The Panamera Edition is also available in 4-wheel drive.

Inside, the Panamera Edition's supple partial-leather interior matches the exterior's luxurious color combination. This, along with the eight-way power seats in the rear, front seat ventilation systems, and electronically controlled rear roll-up blinds all exude prestige and provide the perfect driving experience. The comprehensive 14-speaker BOSE® Surround Sound System is the finishing touch.

In contrast, the Panamera Executive Edition boasts an even more comprehensive package with additional features that come as standard. What's more, the body of the Panamera Executive Edition is 15 cm longer for greater comfort. With side window trims coated in chrome, side air outlets and front air intakes painted in silver and 19-inch Panamera Design II wheels, elegance is elevated to a whole new level. In addition, the Panamera Executive Edition is also available in 4-wheel drive for a more pleasant driving experience.

Boasting sleeker profiles, more dynamic performance, and Porsche's painstaking attention to detail, the Panamera Edition and Panamera Executive Edition deliver the ultimate in performance and comfort, and will be available in China in December 2015 and January 2016 respectively.

BLISTERING CONTENTIONS FOR THE CROWN PORSCHE CARRERA CUP ASIA FINALE ROUNDS 13 & 14

The 28-strong Porsche Carrera Cup Asia field returned home to Shanghai for Rounds 13 and 14 from 31 October to 1 November and delivered an epic season finale that went down to the wire. Slim margins in both the overall and Class B categories required top performances to clinch the coveted championship titles.

On 30 October, Porsche Carrera Cup Asia 2015 roared into Shanghai for the thrilling season finale in collaboration with the FIA World Endurance Championship (WEC) for the first time, delivering relentless battles from the lights out to chequered flag. Sharing the track with their Porsche Team counterparts in the FIA WEC 6 Hours of Shanghai, the 28-strong field took to the track and set the stage for what was a truly epic season finale.

Round 13, while points leader Yuey Tan of Team Jebsen sailed into third after a spinout by Tjia in Round 14, securing his thrilling championship win for Class B by just a single point over second place winner Vutthikorn Intraphuvasak. Third place for Class B was Wayne Shen.

At the start of Round 13, pole-sitter Martin Ragginger of Team Porsche Holding roared off the grid and maintained his strong lead until the end, earning a hard-charging first place finish. Second across the line was Kamlung Racing's Chris Van Der Drift, while Rodolfo Avila of Team Jebsen came in third. In Round 14, the youngest racer, 17-year-old Nico Menzel of PICC Team StarChase, finished his Porsche racing debut season with a decisive first place victory. Team Porsche Holding's Martin Ragginger took the second spot while Budweiser Team Absolute Racing's Ho-Pin Tung coming in third. Ultimately, van der Drift was crowned overall champion after his astonishing season performance – with seven first place victories and two additional podium finishes. Second overall was Clearwater Racing's Craig Baird followed by Nico Menzel in third.

Further fueling the passion for motorsport in the region, the ground-breaking Porsche China Junior Development Programme was launched again to the thrill of young motorsports talents in this region. After a preliminary selection process, nine candidates were announced to go through a final two-day shootout evaluation of their fitness, media and racing skills on 2 and 3 November for a chance to win a season-long contract as the official Porsche China Junior. The finalist will receive funding towards participation in the 2016 Porsche Carrera Cup Asia, season-long professional coaching, entry into a round of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup, and a chance for nomination to the end-of-season Porsche Motorsport International Junior Programme.

After 14 hard-fought races across six countries, the Porsche Carrera Cup Asia 2015 proved once again why it remains the most admired and respected sportscar championship in the region.

In Class B, it was an epic fight to the finish with all four contenders in a heated battle for the top spot. Thailand's Vutthikorn Intraphuvasak of est Cola Racing Team delivered a dazzling performance in the finale with first place podium finishes in both Rounds 13 and 14. Also claiming a double victory was Modena Motorsports' Wayne Shen of Hong Kong, who took second place in both Rounds 13 and 14. Francis Tjia of OpenRoad Racing claimed third in

ONE STEP FOR MILES OF ASSURANCE PORSCHE APPROVED WARRANTY

Porsche is a hallmark of long vehicle life and optimum performance, which is why we continue to offer an extended warranty for your Porsche for up to 10 years. Porsche Approved Warranty is available for all Porsche vehicles less than 9 years old and less than 200,000 km of mileage. With a choice between one or two years' coverage at a time and the option to transfer it between private customers, it offers great flexibility. Porsche Approved Warranty covers all the functioning parts as listed below without any mileage limits, and includes 100% of the relevant labour and material costs:

- Engine
- Fuel system/cooling system
- Transmission/drive assembly
- Steering/suspension
- Brake system
- Air conditioning/heating
- Electric
- Body

With Porsche Approved Warranty, you can be sure of maximum peace of mind and optimum service as all work is exclusively undertaken by qualified Porsche Technicians using only original Porsche Parts. Each vehicle under Porsche Approved Warranty also benefits from the Porsche Assistance programme.

For more information, please consult the dedicated Service Advisor team in your local Porsche Centre. Our staff will be delighted to assist and recommend suitable warranty products.

ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE PORSCHE ASSISTANCE

At Porsche, we strive to go the extra mile for our customers: any time, any place. Which is why we offer Porsche Assistance: a breakdown, accident and theft support service for Porsche vehicles, as well as mobility help for drivers and passengers.

All new vehicles and Porsche Approved Pre-Owned Cars bought at official Porsche Centers in China are covered in the scheme, in addition to non-China supplied vehicles covered with a Road Assistance package. The scheme covers all sudden and unforeseen malfunctions of the vehicle due to failures or breakdown of mechanical or electrical Genuine Parts. Other eventualities such as unforeseen fuel shortage/leakage, tyre damage, battery failure, as well as broken, lost or locked-in keys are also covered by Porsche Assistance. A towing and recovery service as well as a free taxi service for drivers and passengers up to 50 km driving distance from the breakdown location are also available. In the case that your vehicle needs to be taken to a Porsche Centre, you can choose one of three options to keep you mobile: rail/flight/taxi to your planned destination, car hire/chauffeur driven car, or hotel accommodation.

Available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, Porsche Assistance provides maximum convenience and support, wherever and whenever you may need it.

20 YEARS
PORSCHE
EQUIPMENT

PERFECTING YOUR DREAMS 20 YEARS OF PORSCHE EQUIPMENT

At Porsche, we have been offering personalisation options to our customers since the 1950's, and with the increasingly growing demand for genuine Porsche accessories, it was only natural to establish Porsche Equipment in 1995.

Short for "Technical Equipment," the underlying principle for the entire Porsche Equipment range is that it is designed with the overall vehicle in mind, and by the same engineers and designers who create Porsche sports cars. With production being mainly based in the Porsche Development Centre in Weissach, all Equipment accessory products undergo rigorous testing during their development, just like Porsche vehicles, to ensure they are 100% Porsche approved.

After all, they are much more than accessories. They are part of the harmonious overall concept of your Porsche.

With 20 years of experience and expertise, Porsche Equipment stands for one thing: customary Porsche quality. Porsche Equipment offers an array of Porsche products and parts so you can easily adapt your Porsche to your own personal taste and needs.

You can celebrate and explore 20 Years of Porsche Equipment by scanning the QR code to view the history and innovative products on offer, past and present. Whatever your taste, you can be sure that Porsche Equipment will have what you are looking for.

PORSCHE CHINA RECOGNISES EXCEPTIONAL SERVICE ADVISORS

To ensure the customer service at Porsche Centres across China is always up to Porsche standards, and in an effort to reward outstanding Service Advisors, Porsche China established the Service Advisor Recognition Programme on 1 January 2015. The programme contains two parts: a monthly evaluation and incentive for best Service Advisor teams and a final challenge for best Service Advisor individuals.

The highest performing Service Advisor from each Porsche Center was invited for the final two-day challenge in Shanghai, which included training, a competition and a driving experience.

Among all the finalists, Mr. Tianyin Gao of Porsche Center Beijing Haidian, Mr. James Zha of Porsche Center

Nanjing and Ms. Qihong Xie of Porsche Center Shenzhen Futian proved themselves the best by achieving the highest scores across every challenge. The awards ceremony was held during a gala dinner in Shanghai. Congratulations to them!

PORSCHE CHINA LAUNCHES JUNIOR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME 2016

In continuing our pursuit of motorsports excellence, Porsche China launched the Junior Development Programme 2016 to develop the most promising motorsport talents across China and Southeast Asia.

The programme's selection process began by canvassing six young talented drivers from current motorsport drivers across the region, and three grassroots-level karters from China through karting competitions. The nine candidates then qualified for the final testing which took place from 31 October to 3 November where intense physical and aptitude assessments combined with on-track evaluations in a Porsche 911 GT3 Cup (Type 991) and road cars were carried out.

After rigorous examination, one out of nine will earn the title of Porsche China Junior 2016. He will receive a season-long contract as the official Porsche China Junior, funding contribution towards participation in the 2016 Porsche Carrera Cup Asia, season-long professional coaching, entry into a round of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup, and the potential for nomination to the end-of-season Porsche Motorsport International Junior Programme.

We wish all the candidates the best of luck!

PORSCHE CLAIMS WEC WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE 2015

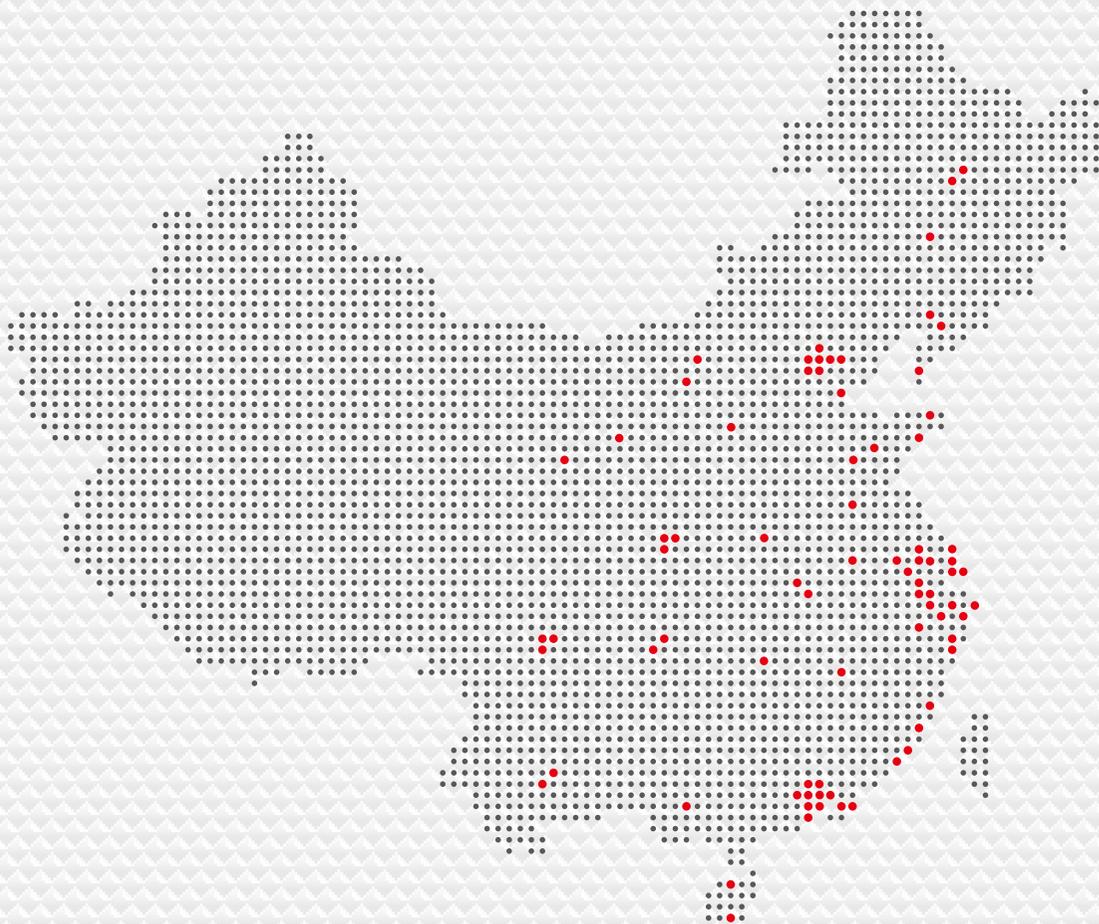

The Six Hours of Shanghai, the FIA World Endurance Championship's (WEC) penultimate race, was held at the Shanghai International Circuit from 31 October to 1 November. Although Shanghai's wet weather presented a challenge, it couldn't keep the formidable pair of 919 Hybrids from a one-two finish in the LMP1 class. The Porsche team's fourth one-two finish of the season, following Fuji, Nürburgring and Le Mans, secures the WEC constructor's World Championship title with 308 points on the leaderboard, ahead of Audi's 238 and Toyota's 137. Accompanying the success in Shanghai was the Porsche 911 RSR's first place finish in the fiercely contested GTE-Pro class.
