

3. Classic Info Exchange

Porsche Classic

Porsche Classic on the Internet

You can now visit the completely redesigned Porsche Classic website under the Internet address <http://content3.eu.porsche.com/prod/service/classic.nsf/gbenglish/classic>.

On our site, you will find a wide range of information about the activities of Porsche Classic, news from the Porsche scene and the history of the Porsche company.

For example, under Events you can find everything you need to know about oldtimer exhibitions where Porsche Classic will be represented, as well as other attractive and interesting events for all Porsche fans. You can find out about the dates of future exhibitions or look in the events archive for short reports of past events, many of them enriched by photos or films.

An entertainingly put together type history of the Porsche 356, 911 (up to model year 1989), 912, 959, 928, 914, 924, 944 and 968 models allows you to experience the full fascination of the Porsche classics. Detailed historical information and technical specifications are available for every model and model year. In this section, you can also download your personal favourite classic Porsche as wallpaper for your computer desktop.

In our updated literature database, made up of almost 800 entries, you can search for technical literature for your classic Porsche. It also contains the relevant price information. You can also use our website to find out the availability of newly issued spare parts and discover the range of Porsche classics on sale at the Porsche Centres.

A further highlight is the redesigned media gallery, which contains photos, engine sounds and contemporary film clips that bring the Porsche legend to life for you. Browse through the collection of historic pictures that cover almost all the classic Porsche models.

We look forward to welcoming you to our new website.

Porsche Classic

